

Model Clause on Privacy and Security of Personal and Professional Documents and Communication

Nothing in this collective agreement limits the personal and professional privacy rights of members otherwise applicable through operation of law.

Further, ~~the parties agree~~ acknowledge that consistent with the exercise of academic freedom, including but not limited to custody or control of professional documents and communications and with protection of research privilege in respect to information and materials gathered and retained for research purposes, members have a right to privacy in ~~their~~ respect to their ~~personal and~~ professional communications, documents and files, ~~whether on paper or in an~~ in whatever ~~electronic~~ form such materials exist and without regard to the manner and/or location where they may be stored.

Approved by the CAUT Council, May 1998;
Draft revision approved by the CAUT Executive Committee, November 2017.

DRAFT