I bring two and a half decades of experience as a chair of a department and addressing issues related to the recruitment, hiring, tenure and promotion of Indigenous faculty within the university. As a member of the Aboriginal Working group, I've been able to help create a forum for the discussion of Indigenous faculty issues within CAUT.

Priorities for CAUT / Priorités de l'ACPPU

Identify what you feel should be major priorities for CAUT in the next two years.
Quelles devraient être, selon vous, les grandes priorités de l'ACPPU pour les deux prochaines années?

One of the most significant issues facing CAUT involves the changing nature of our universities and colleges as they increase their reliance on contingent appointments and foster new partnerships with governments, public organizations, and the business sector. Working to ensure that the terms and conditions of employment for academics throughout Canada's PSE sector are fair and consistent with our values should be a priority in this changing environment.

Universities across the country are embarking upon an unprecedented wave of Indigenous faculty hiring as a response to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's reports. Ensuring that these new members are welcomed to an Academy ready and able to support their work is certainly a priority for me and one I hope that can be shared widely throughout CAUT.

Dear Colleagues,

I write on behalf of TUFA's Executive Committee to nominate Professor David Newhouse for the position of Representative at Large, Aboriginal on the CAUT Executive Committee. David has agreed to stand for the position.

David Newhouse is Onondaga from the Six Nations of the Grand River community near Brantford, Ontario, and a Professor in both the Chanie Wenjack School for Indigenous Studies at Trent University and Trent's School of Business. He was the first Principal of the Peter Gzowski College when it opened at Trent in 2003 and he has chaired our Department of Indigenous Studies since 1993.

Professor Newhouse is Co-Chair of the Trent Aboriginal Education Council. He was the IMC/U of S Aboriginal Scholar in Residence at the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon in 1998/99. He also teaches in the Graduate CED Program at Concordia University.

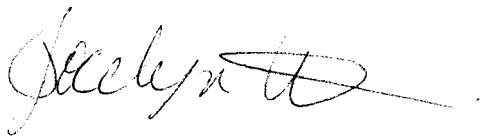

His research interests focus on the emergence of modern Aboriginal society and he is the founding editor of the CANDO Journal of Aboriginal Economic Development, the first peer-reviewed academic journal devoted to Aboriginal economic development issues. David is also a founding editorial board member of aboriginal policy studies, an academic journal focussing on urban Aboriginal issues. He is currently National Director for the SSHRC 'Urban Aboriginal Research Network' project and co-director of Ontario-Quebec Region of the project with Kevin Fitzmaurice, from the University of Sudbury. He is also the Ontario lead for a 5-year CIHR research project: Poverty Action Research Project on Aboriginal health, economic development and poverty with the Eabametoong First Nation and the Assembly of First Nations.

David has served on a variety of other relevant panels and committees. He is the past Chair and a current member of the Standing Committee on Education of the Council for the Advancement of Native Development Officers. He served on the Policy Team on Economics for the Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples. He is a member of the National Aboriginal Benchmarking Committee of the National Aboriginal Economic Development Board and served on the AFN Chief's Make Aboriginal Poverty History Committee. David served as the Science Officer for the Aboriginal Peoples Health research adjudication committee for the Canadian Institutes of Health Research from its inception to 2009.

David is a strong and valued advocate for the members of the Trent University Faculty Association. He has been a member of our Executive Committee for the past eight years, three years as TUFA President and, currently, as our Chief Grievance Officer. Over the years, David has participated in every facet of collegial governance and is a font of institutional and system-wide knowledge. I have no hesitation in encouraging you to reelect David to serve as CAUT's Representative at Large, Aboriginal.

Sincerely,
