

Maxwell Smith

Maxwell Smith, PhD, is a Bioethicist and Assistant Professor in the Faculty of Health Sciences and Rotman Institute of Philosophy at Western University.

Trained in philosophy, bioethics, and public health, Dr. Smith's research is in the area of public health ethics, with a focus on the ethics of preparing for and responding to infectious diseases as well as the ethical requirements of health equity and social justice in public health policy, practice, and research. During the COVID-19 pandemic, Dr. Smith co-chaired Ontario's COVID-19 Bioethics Table and served on Ontario's COVID-19 Vaccine Distribution Task Force, Public Health Agency of Canada Public Health Ethics Consultative Group, World Health Organization Ethics and COVID-19 Working Group, and World Health Organization ACT Accelerator Ethics and Governance Working Group.

Twitter: @maxwellsmith